HyperDoc: the first document management system to be certified according to the new PK-DML criteria

(Bad Vilbel) The modular document management system HyperDoc® from IQDoQ GmbH is now certified once again by TÜV Informationstechnik GmbH (TÜViT). This makes IQDoQ the first company to meet all standards for the recently revised German test criteria for document management solutions (PK-DML). Thus IQDoQ offers all customers the necessary security for electronic archiving, which is required according to the current German statutes for the principles for orderly system-based accounting (GoBS) and regulations for data access and auditing of digital documents (GDPdU).
